

Stephanie Cecile Yavelow (June99, Episode 3) -

is a Swiss-American vocalist / multi-instrumentalist / composer / dancer. She was raised in the Netherlands, where she followed extensive studies in music, received a BA of Dance, and deepened her knowledge of philosophy and art. She returned to LA to bring these elements together and shares her unique perspective through her project: VAYY. VAYY challenges your mind and intrigues your heart with her pure soothing voice, daunting harmonies/ melodies, and cinematic sounds. This forms the basis for the live performances that use interdisciplinary arts, including visual effects and dance. Besides this project, Stephanie also works as an audio engineer assistant, session singer, and performer.
