

Chris Gaal (motion graphics, Episode 3)

Since 2006, Chris and Crazybridge Studios has established itself as more than a widely-recognized graphics production studio for visual production of all kinds of projects – we tell stories. Though much of our work includes refined historical and scientific visualizations for broadcast and non-fiction media and high-action attraction films, we've created visual effects, motion graphics, and 3D animation across a wide range of subjects and budgets, and written and fully produced films as well. Our award-winning team of artists brings to the table keen visual design sense and creative energy coupled with a deep capacity for research, precision, and clarity. This approach enables us to create breathtaking animations, motion graphics, and visual effects that are not only visually compelling, but accurate and accessible. Our Pasadena facility houses a climate-controlled render farm, highly-optimized to provide maximum throughput while minimizing energy consumption, and our production pipeline utilizes state-of-the-art software and proprietary tools.

<http://www.crazybridge.com/>